Welcome to the first issue of the fall 2010 Parent Newsletter for the parents of students who are beginning their education at Ursuline College! There will be two more issues later in the semester to continue to acquaint you with campus resources. You and your daughter/son are now members of the Ursuline family. We have over 10,000 alums, the vast majority of whom choose to reside in the Greater Cleveland area and contribute greatly to their communities.

CAMPUS RESOURCES
Each issue of this newsletter will highlight a campus resource. The Student Service Center (also called One-Stop) is a primary resource for Ursuline students. Located in MU 203, it is open Monday-Thursday from 8:30am - 6:00pm and Friday from 8:30am - 5:00pm. In this office students can pay their bills, set up credit on their college ID card to use in the bookstore and dining areas, add or drop classes with their advisor’s approval, obtain parking permits, and obtain financial aid information. The Student Service Center is staffed by Jennifer Kessler and Emily Sajewski, both alums of Ursuline. The phone is 440 646 8309.

MID-TERM BREAK AND MID-TERM WARNINGS
Midterm break is October 18-22nd. While everyone enjoys a break from the demanding pace of college this is often a stressful time of the semester due to midterm exams and assignments. Some instructors give exams before midterm break and others give them after midterm break. It’s important for students to pay attention to the syllabus for each class so they will be prepared. Faculty may choose to issue midterm warnings to students who are not earning “C” or above in their courses. These warnings are emailed from the registrar’s office to the student at her/his Ursuline email account after midterm break. Parents can ask their son/daughter if he/she has received any warnings and can remind them to sign up for tutoring through URSA, MU 312. It is also highly recommended that students make direct contact with their instructor in any class where they are having difficulty.

ACADEMIC ADVISORS ASSIGNED
Each student is assigned to a faculty or staff member who will be her/his academic advisor. New students have been assigned and should have received the name of their advisor. The college recommends that students make the first contact with their advisor as soon as they receive notification of who it is. This can be a phone call, an email, or a visit to the office of the advisor. You might want to ask your student who her/his advisor is and whether or not she/he has met the advisor. The advisor is the person with whom the student will meet in order to register for classes each semester. They will support the student in pursuing her/his academic goals and in investigating careers.
FACULTY THAT TEACH NEW STUDENTS
Faculty members at Ursuline make student success the focus of their teaching. Each issue of the newsletter will introduce a faculty member who teaches new students. This month we feature Sr. Cynthia Glavac.

Sr. Cynthia received her Ph.D. in English Literature from Bowling Green State University in 1992. She has taught full-time at Ursuline since then. In 2005 she received the college's Marie LoPresti Faculty Award for Community Service. In addition to her work in English literature she has authored a biography of Sr. Dorothy Kazel, the Ursuline Sister slain in El Salvador during the civil war in 1980. Sr. Cynthia teaches Ursuline Studies 101 during the fall semester. “I thoroughly enjoy working with students new to the college experience.”

SUGGESTIONS FOR PARENTS
There are several transition tasks that new college students encounter. It may be helpful for parents to be aware of these so that you can support your son/daughter in working through them. The following list is adapted from http://www.lc.iastat.edu/appendixa.pdf

- Resolving separation and loss in leaving home
- Adapting to a new college environment
- Initiating new relationships
- Meeting the academic demands of college
- Decision-making and self-discipline skill development
- Clarifying values and understanding university culture

To help students deal with these issues Ursuline provides support services through our Office of Counseling and Career Services. Student Affairs, including Residence Life, offers a variety of programs and activities all designed to help students transition successfully to college life. Ursuline Resources for Success in Academics offers tutoring and other academic assistance. You may want to encourage your son/daughter to explore these services if it appears that support would be beneficial.
